Zack Harris is an associate with Kidder Mathews in Phoenix, Arizona, specializing in healthcare real estate services.

Zack is an integral part of the team comprising Michael Dupuy, Fletcher Perry, Perry Gabuzzi, Rachael Thompson, and Chad Sutton. This team is renowned for its expertise in the leasing, acquisition, and disposition of healthcare real estate. Their comprehensive platform of services includes investment sales, landlord and tenant representation, demographic and market analysis, and more.

Zack brings a dynamic and analytical approach to real estate, focusing on investment sales in the healthcare sector. His dedication to understanding the unique challenges of the healthcare industry, combined with his expertise in market analysis and investment strategy, allows him to deliver tailored solutions to his clients. Zack's role involves closely working with healthcare providers and investors, assisting them in making informed real estate decisions that align with their long-term objectives.

Prior to joining Kidder Mathews, Zack was a global sales account executive at Amazon.com, where he managed a substantial $50M book of business. Zack holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration. He graduated from the Orfalea College of Business at the California Polytechnic State University in San Luis Obispo, California. Zack held several leadership positions on campus including; Co-Founder & President - Cal Poly FinTech, Provost & Class President - Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity, Marketing Lead - Center for Service in Action, and Judge - SLO Hackathon.
