Jack is a member of the multifamily brokerage team led by Executive Vice Presidents Jerrid Anderson and Dylan Simon. The team represents investors and developers in the disposition and acquisition of apartment buildings and land. Jack specializes in 10-100 unit properties located in the City of Seattle. Growing up in Seattle, with several family members in the commercial real estate industry, Jack has a deep understanding of the business and the Seattle multifamily market. In an effort to ensure his clients achieve their goals, he is committed to providing them with honest feedback, accurate property analyses, and extensive financial and statistical data to make sound business decisions.

During his free time, Jack enjoys skiing and all water sports.
